Quality through competence – our partner in the Middle East!

CEMENT INTERNATIONAL publishes an issue in the Arabic language once per year. The "Arabic Edition" is closely tailored to meet the requirements of the Arab reader and is produced on the spot in Cairo by the G&W Science and Engineering Institute, which is headed by Professor Dr. rer. nat. Hanaa Yousef Ghorab. At her side is the chairman of the El Nahda Industries Co, Eng. Nabil Sayed El-Gabry. Through close contact to the Arab Union for Cement and Building Material, widespread distribution of the journal is guaranteed within the Arabian target group without any loss due to waste scatter dispersion.

Professor Dr. rer. nat. Hanaa Yousef Ghorab

Before her retirement, Professor Dr. rer. nat. Hanaa Yousef Ghorab taught Applied Physical Chemistry at the renowned Helwan University in Cairo, Egypt, where she also held the office of vice dean of the Faculty of Sciences. Today she is director and owner of the G&W Science and Engineering Company with head office in Cairo. Founded in the year 1998, G&W offers consultancy services in the fields of cement and concrete, such as for example, X-ray diffractometry, electronmicroscopy and thermoanalysis. In cooperation with other institutes in the Arabian area, G&W carries out quality control, research projects and product developments. In the production of the Arabian issue of CEMENT INTERNATIONAL, Professor Ghorab will be assisted by Eng. Nabil Sayed El-Gabry, the chairman of the El Nahda Industries Co in Egypt. With an annual production of over 3 million tonnes of cement, the National Cement Company counts as a major company in the Arabian area. Together with Professor Ghorab, Mr. El-Gabry is responsible for the selection of the contents and for the correct translation of the articles into Arabic. G&W is an associate member of the Arab Union for Cement and Building Materials (AUCBM) and a full member of the National Cement Company, through which there are excellent contacts to the entire Arab world.
