

Quality through competence – our partner in the CIS States!

CEMENT INTERNATIONAL publishes an issue in the Russian language once per year. The “Russian Edition” is closely tailored to meet the requirements of readers in the states of the former Soviet Union (CIS). It is produced on the spot in Kiev in the Ukraine by the V. D. Glukhovsky State Scientific Research Institute for Binders and Materials of the National University of Civil Engineering and Architecture. The editorial direction is in the hands of Professor Dr. Pavlo Kryvenko. His close contact to the Russian and the Ukrainian cement industries, which have grown during his long career of 40 years, guarantees widespread distribution of the journal within the CIS target group without any loss due to waste scatter dispersion.
